We are proud of

- The Department of Civil Society Studies' inclusion in the database of the best educational programs in the civil society area.
- The many papers and books published by department researchers
- The awards our students have received for successful studies, for instance:

Josef Hlávka Award—Mikuláš Pštross, for his diploma thesis entitled Lévinasian Civil Society? (2010)

Award—Tereza Jurečková and Ondřej Klügl for their outstanding results in social entrepreneurship ( Pragulic.cz ) (2015)

Josef Hlávka Award—Kateřina Singerová for her diploma thesis entitled Civic Engagement of Female Dissidents (2015)

- We participate in a range of projects both at home and abroad that target public administration, the larger academic community, and the general public. One such project is www.czechkid.cz , a website dedicated to multicultural education; others explore definitional issues to do with the social economy and social entrepreneurship and look into volunteerism in the CR as well as social exclusion among young homeless people.

- The expertise provided by department faculty as part of their membership in groups and organizations such as the Norwegian Fund Steering Committee for the Nonprofit Sector; the Government Council for Nongovernmental Nonprofit Organisations and its Committee on Legislation and Funding and Working Group on State Nonprofit Sector Policy; and others.
