Department Profile

The Department of Civil Society Studies is part of Faculty of Humanities, Charles University in Prague (FH ChU)

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

- We are the first independent department in the Czech Republic to focus on civil society and the civil sector.
- We interconnect theory with practice and research with applications across all the areas in our purview.
- We provide space for academics and those active in the field to meet and organize discussions, lectures, and joint projects.

WE OFFER

- MA and PhD programs, both full-time and combined study, in a friendly atmosphere of mutual respect.
- Program lecturers chosen from the academic community as well as from among those active in the field.
- Various projects that allow students to get involved in a broad range of topics.
- Collaboration with civil society organizations.
